WHY NOT HUNT GOLD.

HODGE, MOJAVE DESERT.
CALIF., Jan. 28.—The world needs more gold, and may get it. France and Uncle Sam now control the world's supply, France with the highest per capita gold reserve.
Hard times have sent prospectors back to hills and mountains, their "good times easy jobs" in cities having vanished. You see more and more of them traveling this desert country, each, in his year of prospecting, probably passing great fortunes a dozen times. To prospect is one thing, to find is another.

Usually the prospector rides one mule, two others following. One carries the camping outfit, with blankets and "grub," the other carries prospectors' tools, and more food. Perhaps a few sticks of dynamite are carried by the more enterprising.

An occasional prospector, too old to ride long hours, drives two donkeys hitched to a two-wheel cart, a pole between them. Up hills and mountains too rough for his cart, he rides one donkey, leaving the other below.

These men often spend a life time without reward. More money has been put into gold mines and gold hunting than has ever been taken out. But even the oldest prospector never looks discouraged. Hope is back of the sunburned face and gray beard, and fortune is always just ahead. You need not feel sorry for him. Trying is the only thing in life worth while, possession is nothing. And he is trying, and full of hope. A young gentleman spending his dead father's money in a fashionable gambling house might well enjoy the old prospector seeking a "grub stake" for just one more trip.

The multitude of seekers will find gold, undoubtedly, for it is everywhere in this western country.
Some blow with a hammer might uncover wealth literally beyond the dreams of avarice, although water power, rich soil and oil have long since superseded gold in the public imagination.

Uncle Sam, himself, may add to Europe's indignation by discovering his own gold mines in the deep dis-cove of your country. Young men out of college next spring might invest $150 in three donkeys and an outfit,
bring a book on mineralogy, a friend and advice which the government will gladly supply. In a few weeks of gold hunting, they might learn, in contact with the earth and with poor men, things

If you come out here and go prospecting you probably will find no gold, but you will find something better—health and knowledge of your country. Young men out of college next spring might invest $150 in three donkeys and an outfit,
bring a book on mineralogy, a
friend and advice which the government will gladly supply. In a

Opposes Payment

Andrew Mellon, secretary of cized proposed plans for the payment of war veterans' bonus certificates, declaring that such action would upset economic stability of the nation as well as exert a disturbing influence on the world.

FIERY CHARGES ARE HURLED IN IASAR HEARING

"My Money Made You
Chief," Corn Sugar King
Tells Police Head

AKRON, O., Jan. 28.—Completed with the testimony of Leo Iasar, allegedly abdicated "corn sugar
king" of Akron, who hurled sensational charges against Chief of Police Frank J. Boss, evidence of suspected crime and graft in this city's municipal offices, collected by a special investigating committee of city council, today awaited review by the Summit county grand jury.

Shouts Accusations
Mouthing the stand after he had been attacked in the testimony of several witnesses at previous sessions of the probing committee, Iasar shouted accusations that created a furore in the council chambers.

"Liar," he barked at Boss, "it was my money and nothing else made you police chief of Akron." Iasar made the charge after testifying for two hours before the committee. His testimony resulted in a confusion that was not quieted until committee officials threatened to call police.

Iasar involved Boss in a pact with Harry B. (Pat) Moran, in which Moran was declared to have received $3,000 from Iasar "to have Boss appointed as chief of police."

Said He Feared Bomb
Moran, Iasar charged, was compelled to leave Akron for fear his home would be bombed by Ed. F.
Sheek, attorney for Mayor G.
Lloyd Weir, which drew the lawyer
to his feet shouting.

Calling a halt to the session, committee chairman, Robert M. Sanderson announced that the entire investigation, which has extended over several weeks, would be placed before the grand jury immediately
by Edwin W. Brouse and Ray B.
Watters, special attorneys for the city council graft and vice probing committee.

MUSIC, DEBATE
AT MEN'S MEET

Program Given By Methodist Episcopal Church Unit; Father and Son Banquet Is Planned

A debate and musical number made up the program at a meeting of the Men's club of the Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday evening at the church, with about 50 men in attendance.

The question debated was: "Resolved, that Ohio should establish a bureau of employment to administer an unemployment fund to which the employer, the employee, and the state shall contribute."

Before the question was debated a vote was taken on it by the entire group, which stood 18 for the affirmative and 20 negative. After the debate, the number was 16 affirmative and 20 negative. No decision was given.

J. L. Gray and D. R. McConnell were the affirmatives, while the negatives were Artie Charles Mc-Corkhill and O. C. Hoover. Talks were given by Neil Grisez and Orel Naragon, alternates.

Al Palmer, Nathan Harris and Calvin Conway furnished music.
Mrs. Charles Freed was accompanist for Mr. Palmer. Refreshments were served.

The annual Father and Son Banquet on Feb. 24 will take the place of the February meeting.

Fears Serious Results To

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Secretary Mellon appeared before the senate finance committee today to warn that cash redemption of the soldiers' bonus would upset the nation's financial structure and "greatly disturb world equilibrium."

The veteran secretary of the treasury said the cashing of the adjusted service certificates, which has been urged as a relief measure, would
"seriously retard a business recovery, and so prolong unemployment."

Anticipates Deficit

He testified the treasury will close the fiscal year with a deficit, according to present indications, of not less than $375,000,000 and that cash payment of the face value of the certificates would cost about $3,400,000,000.

"I can say without qualification,"
he said, "that the treasury department could not sell $3,400,000,000 of bonds at the present time except on terms which it would be very hard to justify and without complete disorganization of the government and other security markets,
with the most serious consequences not only to the public credit but to our entire economic structure."

Continuing, he said, "but serious
as would be the direct consequences to the treasury and to the public credit, the indirect consequences to the country would be even more serious."

Lists Consequences

Among the "indirect consequences"
he listed:

BEGG, BETTMAN
AT CANTON FETE

Will Speak At McKinley
Day Banquet Thursday Night

A number of Salem and Colum-biana county persons will attend the McKinley day banquet which will be held at the Courtland hotel, Canton, at 6:30 p. m. Thursday under the direction of the Stark County Republican club.

Thursday will be the anniversary of the birthday of the late President William McKinley.

James S. Kinnison, chairman of the Stark county Republican committee, will act as toastmaster. J. C.
Neely has been chosen chairman of the men's reception committee.
William T. Kuhns, chairman of the men's division, Mrs. Cora Walters, chairman of the women's reception committee and Mrs. Esther T.
Schwab, chairman of the women's division.

Principal speakers will be James T. Begg of Sandusky, former congressman and candidate for governor, and Gilbert Bettman, attorney general of Ohio. Congressman
C. B. McClintock of Canton and Mrs. Wilma Sinclair LeVan of Steubenville, G. O. P. leader, also are slated to speak.

Other guests will include Harry L. Davis, of Cleveland, former governor; A. J. Routzan, collector of internal revenue at Cleveland and Larry Collier, Cuyahoga county treasurer.

Men Arrested Here
Sentenced To Pen

William Meyers and Anthony Klanek of New York City, arrested in Salem recently on a charge of stealing an automobile, were sentenced to serve two years in Atlanta penitentiary by Federal Judge Samuel H. West in Cleveland today.

The men pleaded guilty. They were arrested by Salem police after attempting to evade payment of gasoline and oil purchased at a filling station in this city. The automobile which they were riding and which they admitted stealing in New York, was wrecked when they attempted to escape police.

Family Separated 12 Years
To Reunite In Columbiana

Brothers, Sisters Parted As Death Takes Parents; State-Wide Search Started By School-girl Is Rewarded

Separated for more than 12
years, two brothers and two sisters,
now residing in different sections of Ohio, will be reunited at a family gathering now being arranged at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Vollmire, 117 West Park avenue, Columbiana.

Separated In 1918
It was in 1918 when the four children, sons and daughters of Mr.
and Mrs. Ray McMarrow, who lived near Columbus in Fayette county, became separated at the death of their parents. The youngest member of the family, Catherine, then only three years old, was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Vollmire as their daughter.

Yearning for the companionship of her brothers and sister, Catherine, a student in the eighth grade of Columbiana public schools, recently requested her parents to start a search for them. Mr. and Mrs. Voll-mire, bending every effort towards location of the missing members of the McMarrow family, after a statewide search, finally obtained first clues to their whereabouts from 12-year-old records at a children's home in Columbus.

Sister In Cincinnati
Mrs. Paul Zimmermann, now 19, living in Cincinnati, Catherine's long-missing sister, was the first to be located, two weeks before Christmas, and later in the month, John McMarrow.

WHITE CABINET
IS COMPLETED

Senate Confirms Thomas Edmondson of Urbana As Director of Industrial Relations

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 28.—The cabinet of Governor George White was complete today, following confirmation by the senate of the last of his administrative advisors, Thomas A. Edmondson of Urbana,
as director of industrial relations.

The senate voted Edmondson's confirmation 18 to 5 yesterday after the senate labor committee had recommended it by a vote of four to two with one member, Senator James A. Reynolds, Democrat, Cleveland, not voting. Reynolds did not vote when the matter was presented to the senate. Senator John P.
Bower, Logan county, was the only Democrat to vote against confirmation. The Ohio Federation of Labor had protested Edmondson's selection for the post.

Governor White still was considering today whether he will ask the senate to confirm L. L. Paris, Lynchburg, whom he has selected for prohibition commissioner, or name another candidate.

Aids Appointed

known pastors, will feature dedication services of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church, Rev. G.
D. Reister, pastor, announced today.

Dedication week ceremonies will start on Sunday, February 8, the complete program being arranged by a committee in charge of the occasion. The committee in charge of the programs is composed of Gary C. Greenisen, Dan Pearson,
Miss Mittle Ross, Mrs. J. A. Fehr
and Mrs. A. H. Schropp.

Chicago Pastor To Speak

Rev. John F. Seibert, D. D. of Chicago, Ill., and Rev. Joseph Sit-tler, president of the Ohio Synod of Lutheran churches, will be principal speakers at opening ceremonies which will be held Sunday, February 8. Rev. Sittler will speak at services arranged for Sunday morning while Rev. Seibert will give the dedicatory address Sunday afternoon.

Various organizations of the church will be in charge of services which will be held during the week.
The Missionary society will have charge of the Monday night services, while the Luther League, music clubs and Sunday school organizations will sponsor succeeding programs.

Community Service Feb. 13

A "community fellowship night"
program at which Rev. J. S. Terold, D. D. of Columbus, will be the speaker, is scheduled for Friday, February 13. Church congregations throughout the Northeastern Ohio district have been invited to attend the services.

Included in the speakers in the week night programs are Rev. J.
Paul Hammond of Bradock, Pa., former pastor of the Salem church;
Rev. E. C. Herman of Canton; Rev.
Jesse LeRoy Miller of Youngstown,
Miss Jessie Thomas, now on a furlough from duties as missionary in British India, and Rev. C. A. Denning, of Warren, Pa.

Church choirs from several cities near Salem will appear at various services.

ers' Institute Today

W. H. Matthews of Salem will speak at the annual community institute of Summit county farmers
at West Richfield today.

Matthews, past president of the Ohio Horticultural society, is well known as a historian and archaeologist. He will speak on subjects of
"The Mount Builders of Ohio," "A Day in My Orchard" and "The Value of Music."

The community institute which annually attracts a large gathering of farm folk in Summit county, is in session today and Thursday.

Cards To Entertain

For the benefit of those who do not care to dance but who desire to attend the charity ball for the benefit of the Red Cross drought relief fund, arrangements have been made for a room of cards at the Elks home Friday night.

Bridge or other card games may be played, as tables will be arranged in a room near the ball room.

Mrs. Myra B. Woodruff, executive secretary of Salem chapter, announces that tickets for the charity ball are selling rapidly and indications are that the attendance will be large.

BEANS OR SALT
PORK MENU IN DROUGHT AREA

Bread And Molasses Provides Variety In Daily Meal

By J. C. STARK

Associated Press Writer
MARVELL, ARK. Jan. 28.—A meal a day, consisting usually of bread and molasses and perhaps beans or plain salt pork, is what the average drought sufferer's family gets out of what the Red Cross gives him.

"But we're thankful to get that because it keeps us from starving," said Jacob Miller, a tenant farmer.

"About all it does is keep us alive though."

Typical of Other Cases Miller's case is typical of that of most of the tenant farmers of this and other counties—whites and Negroes alike.

He has a wife and two children and has been receiving food from the Red Cross for three weeks. It amounts to about $5 a month.

"We eat one meal a day," he said.
"If we tried to get more than that out of the food we get, it wouldn't last two weeks."

The food is allotted every two weeks.

"We don't get enough at one meal. If I ate all I wanted, there wouldn't be any left for my family, so lots of times I do without."

"The people over here, both white and colored persons, have just about killed all their hogs that didn't die. I lost five hogs and was afraid to eat them. I know of lots of others who lost their hogs.
I don't know what was the matter with them—I suppose it was because they hadn't got the right kind of feed."

Will Have To Kill Cows

"Now people are going to have to kill their cows as poor as they are, to get enough to eat."

Miller's children are not in school because he said they did not have clothes to keep them warm. Many others are keeping their children out for the same reason.

Like many of the other tenant farmers Miller saved nothing from last year's crop. His cotton brought ten cents a pound and barely paid for the picking. He could not pay for the food furnished him on that crop. He bought a mule which he lost because he could not pay for it.

Pastor Discusses
Laws In Address

Ease in which criminals evade laws in modern times was explained in an address by Dr. C. L. Smith of Atwater at the meeting of Salem Rotary club members Tuesday.

Speaking on "Law and the Citizen," Dr. Smith, former pastor of the First Methodist church here, pointed out flaws in the present criminal and contended that those making the laws were to blame to a certain extent for prevalence of crime.

Violin selections were played by John W. and John L. Hundert-mark.

Roy Hostettler was in charge of the meeting.

Condition

WARNING GIVEN.
WATCHMAN SAYS

Newgarden Avenue Crossing Strwn With Groceries

Two Youngstown men were injured, one critically, when the grocery truck they were operating was struck and demolished by a Chicago to Pittsburgh passenger train at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing, Newgarden ave., at 5:08 a.
m. today.

The men, Carl C. Griffith, 29, Loran ave., and Louis Honest, 19, of Perry st., Youngstown, are in Salem city hospital, suffering from injuries sustained in the crash. Griffith, who sustained a fractured skull, lacerations and bruises, is in a critical condition.

Honest suffered serious back injuries, lacerations and bruises about the entire body. His condition is reported fair by hospital physicians.

Police Investigate

Investigations are being conducted by the Salem police department to ascertain cause of the accident. Police have not learned which of the two men was driving the truck.
Stoffer said this morning, both being in a semi-conscious condition on the arrival of the police ambulance in which they were taken to a hospital.

B. R. Patterson of Alliance, w. a. of Perry, told Fire Captain George Stoffer that full warning had been given to the men of the approach of the train, saying that bells were rung.
Whether or not the crossing gates were lowered police were not able to ascertain, Patterson having returned to his home in Alliance shortly after the crash.

Detective Guards Groceries

Both men were employees of the National Transport company of Youngstown and were enroute to this city from Hanoverton, delivering wholesale produce in the Salem district to chain stores. Groceries, flour and other produce was scattered over the tracks for more than 200 yards following the crash. A Pennsylvania railroad detective was placed on duty to prevent theft of any of the goods by curious onlookers.

Salem police and firemen were notified of the accident about 5:11,
the fire department being called to extinguish a small blaze which started in produce carried on the truck.
Griffith was found wandering about the tracks in a dazed condition.
Honest lying near the truck, also in a semi-conscious state.

Traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad was tied up for more than an hour, the Chicago-Pittsburgh train which struck the truck being delayed 70 minutes when the impact of the crash disabled the engine. A replacement engine was obtained from Canton. The Gothaer limited, due in Salem at 6:55, was re-routed through Wellsville and East Liverpool, railroad officials said this morning.

SUMMING UP

It might have helped the prohibition issue had Charles Merz's book, "The Dry Decade," been substituted for the Wickersham report. It is obliged to make no recommendations and it is consistent throughout, an honest and well-written history of prohibition. By recalling a multitude of facts for the benefit of those who have allowed unsubstantiated opinion to destroy their balance, Mr. Merz has performed a signal service.

One is reminded, for instance, that constitutional prohibition came on the crest of the third great prohibition wave; that a majority in the house of representatives voted for a constitutional amendment in 1914; that wartime prohibition came about naturally as a conservation measure in 1918, a year after a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment passed both houses; and that the dries fancied their battle was won when prohibition became effective in 1920. The wets, on the other hand, seemed to have been caught napping.

Among other helpful facts, forgotten so long as to be almost new information, is one that from 1850 on up to the time when prohibition became effective through the 18th amendment, the brewers could have turned the tide of battle readily by reforming the saloon. This they did not choose to do.

It is interesting, also, to rediscover that "every major question now prominent in the problem of enforcement had already raised its head in the first six months of 1920." Smuggling, court congestion, scoffing, "wide open" cities—all were present to cause trouble from the very first. Mr. Merz recounts that the dries made light of them and that the wets encouraged them, even as today.

Also, from the first, congress was loathe to back up its legislation with funds. At the end of 1930, although the prohibition bureau's budget had been doubled, congress was still unwilling to believe that its own responsibilities went beyond half-way authority, a budget of $13,000,000 and a staff of 2,300 field agents, each covering an average area of 1,300 square miles.

Mr. Merz's picture is the clear, same one produced by the proper perspective. Wets can see in it proof that prohibition has failed; dries can see in it proof that there never has been an attempt to enforce it. Zealots may be expected to object to it because it shows too clearly that prohibition is not a plain issue of fact.

What, then, must be the conclusion of a man capable of painting such a picture? This:

"National prohibition by constitutional amendment had begun as the golden dream of thousands of devoted men and women. At the end of a decade it had precipitated a struggle which was to test the political wisdom of the American Republic."

"The political wisdom of the American Republic"—a phrase to repeat. How great is that wisdom? Is it great enough to prevent prohibition, a domestic issue, from monopolizing the nation's attention to the detriment of other equally, or more, important issues? Most vital, is it great enough to make citizens see that a candidate's fitness for office does not rest upon his attitude toward prohibition? America faces a more severe struggle than it ever has faced before unless prohibition can be held in its proper place.

"LIKE A COUNTRY SQUIRE"
William Hohenzollern, once known to the world as William II, emperor of Germany, celebrated his 72nd birthday Tuesday. Remarking the occasion, the Associated Press said, "here (Doorn, Holland) where the former Kaiser lives like a country squire, he worked as usual in his rosarium, digging and chopping wood like one of his Dutch laborers."

There are few people anywhere, even among Herr Hohenzollern's political enemies in Germany, who begrudge him succeeding birthdays as he enters on his 73rd year of life, a strange reversal of feeling that cannot but come to the attention of all who remember how the Kaiser was hated during the World War. True, time heals all scars, but in the hectic, hating days following 1914 it hardly seemed possible that enemies ever could be forgiven.

But, today, the man who was popularly depicted less than two decades ago as a black-whiskered demon crushing babes under his iron heels is a kindly-featured old gentleman with a curly beard and a quizzical expression. The world forgets. Already there are people who never heard of Kaiser Wilhelm. The spiked helmet, the mailed fist, the glowering countenance and other artifices of the cartoonist never have aroused them. And in Doorn, the man popularly blamed for turning the world topsy-turvy in 1914 works quietly in his rosarium, digging, chopping wood and devoting a great deal of time to determining who it was that really started the war after all. Futility? The word is only half strong enough to express the silly, horrible folly of it all.

What Others Say

ON THE BASIS OF VOTES CAST
In the states which did not gain in population proportionately with other states, and thereby must lose members of the house of representatives under the reapportionment law, many suggestions have been made how to avoid the blow. From the South, where the population is largely native born, proposals have come to rearrange the apportionment so as to exclude aliens from consideration. From northern states which have not gained sufficiently to maintain their delegations numerically, there is the counter-suggestion that non-voters—which in the South means negroes—be eliminated from the computation. For ten years congress shirked the plain mandate of the constitution for a reapportionment after each decennial census. Now the census bureau, with full legal authority from congress, has formulated a plan which will be the law unless it is repudiated. If it is, justice and equity, plus the constitution, will have been defied.

The latest comment on the subject is in the form of a table inserted in the Congressional Record by Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan. He did not deny that to base house representation either on non-alien or actual voters would require an amendment to the constitution. He merely said that he would prefer to work out the allocation that way, although it can not legally be done. But he presented the table to demonstrate just what the house representation would be under these circumstances. As he said, it is "interesting."

With the presidential election of 1928 as a guide, the larger delegations would go to those states which had the greatest number of qualified voters who actually exercised their right of suffrage. New England would gain seven, the Middle Atlantic group fifteen, the east North Central twenty-one, the west North Central fourteen, the Mountain states and the Pacific cluster one each. The South Atlantic states would lose twenty-one, the east South Central fourteen and the west South Central twenty-five.

Mr. Vandenberg's admission that his table is merely "interesting" negates any thought that he might seek a constitutional amendment to make it effective. But it might be pointed out that his arrangement would penalize the states having qualified voters who, for perfectly excellent reasons—as, for example, where primary nomination meant everything—chose not to vote at all in certain elections. It's usefulness would seem to be limited to a basis for the choice of delegates to national conventions. Hereby referred to Messrs. Fess and Raskob—New York Times.

The Stars Say

The sidereal operations prevailing on this day point to a very lively and enterprising state of affairs. Under the true aspect of the luminaries there is promise of advancement or favors in employment with a generally fortunate outcome for dealing with a superior or those in authority. There should be a high stimulus to initiative and new ventures, but the latter are under some threat of fraud or misrepresentation. Labor, property and kindred interests may be disappointing, but with prudence finances should be satisfactory.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a lively and enterprising state of affairs during the year, with recognition or advancement from those in employment. New projects have a menace of fraud or duplicity, and land, property, mining, labor, etc., may be obstructed. With care against extravagant uses of finances these should flourish. A child born on this day should be energetic, ambitious and capable, but may incline to a lavish expenditure of its funds and have some personal harmonies to meet.

NEW YORK Day by Day

by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—With most of the fortunate winds out of Broadway sails, racketeers are concentrating on the shakedown as a means of livelihood. When every thing else fails, the breach of promise suit is one of the surest of all evils. It is apothecized in the Broadway comedy "On Promise Me!"

There are some 200 shysters in the Tenderloin section who will take any case presented, no matter how flimsy, on a percentage of the receipts. They do not actually harass husbands who have had nights out.

Such actions are never taken against the professional philanthropist. He has no reputation to lose. It is the respectable fellow with an occasional lapse who is the target. Three mysterious suicides in the past few months are attributed to the fear of impending disgrace.

While New Yorkers are often victimized, the prize packages are the outlanders in town for a frolic. Scouts angle for them in hotel lobbies. Solid, substantial, they are lured away from the family fire-side. So they are baited with the "party girls."

A bit of night life is admittedly suggested. The stranger is not particularly interested but with a cocktail or so mellows. He is jockeyed into the company of one of the sympathetic ladies and under her blandishments babbles of his wife, his home and the kiddies.

That is all she wants to know! Such information assays pure gold. There is often not even hand-holding in the home going taxi. Nize baby! Next day she rounds him to her apartment for a cup of tea. Several drop in casually and are introduced. Witnesses!

The stranger goes home. In due time the extortionist shows up. She has learned from him the name of his best friend and goes directly to him. She is a betrayed woman. He promised to marry her. The poor victim loves his wife, children and home above all else. So he pays.

Blackmailers have a gibberish of their own as outlandish and resonant as some African tribal tongue. Some of it comes from Australian underworld patois, a sort of rhyming slang. A few samples: Twist and twirl—girl; whip and slash—muntache; cheese and kisses—a wife; fiddle and flute—a suit of clothes; dickey-dirt—a shirt; bread and jam—a street car; silk and twine—wine; apples and pears—a stairway; bees and honey—money; east and west—vest.

A 65 year old upper Fifth avenue galant has become a collector of rare paintings. His young wife was complaining of his passionate devotion to his canvasses. "I know," he admitted sadly, "Old masters have become young mistresses."

At one of these high-blown literary teas the guest of honor was a former princess. To those grouped about she told of her christening. She was taken to the event in a gold coach drawn by three teams of white horses, the coach surrounded by mounted husars in scarlet and gold trappings. "Different from your baptizing?" I whispered to Blide Dudley also standing on the fringe of the group. "Quite," he grinned. "I was ducked in a creek!"

At the same tea a professional drawing room bound evidently partook of a cocktail or so too many and looked a trifle blurred. "Really, old fruit" he gurgled "I am gorgeously waxed!"

Another celebrity tea sipping at the coling festival was pointed out as "a collector of miniature elephants and gutter songs." There's a career!

The Rialto appears to have developed a sudden yawn for English players. Three years ago the hit plays featured chiefly British stars. Today about the only English actor with a steady box office draw is George Arliss and he long since sold himself down the river to Hollywood.

PRAISES DOCTOR AS INDIGESTION PAINS VANISH

"For seven years I kept trying medicines, hoping to get relief from indigestion," says Mrs. Grace Wheeler, 153 Church St., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan. "Nothing really helped me. I got so I never felt quite right; was tired and weak. I would bloat and have awful sick headaches after every meal."

"Now it's a different story. I got back most of my lost weight in a few months and feel fine. Nearly everything agrees with me. When anything starts to disagree, a tablet of Diapepsin has me comfortable in a minute."

"My doctor ordered me to take these wonderful tablets and I sure thank him for his advice. They're just like candy to eat; but they work better than any medicine I could find."

For years, leading physicians have endorsed Pape's Diapepsin. All drug stores sell the handy boxes. Get one and the next time heartburn, headache or nausea appears, soothe your stomach and make digestion complete with one or two of the pleasant, candy-like tablets. If you would like a personal demonstration of their merit before buying, write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va., for a FREE trial box.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Indigestion Causes Deafness
Can you believe that deafness may be produced by certain types of indigestion?

Not long ago I saw an interesting account of a paper read at a medical society. The author contended that certain forms of intestinal indigestion are capable of impairing the hearing.

For a number of years I have believed there is a direct relationship between dyspepsia and deafness. Some of the food authorities have said so for a long time. The latest writer thinks the pancreas is responsible for certain conditions which may have lowered hearing power as a symptom.

The pancreas is that organ of the body commonly known as the "sweetbread." It is a long narrow gland opening into the intestinal canal.

Hearing Affected
What is it for and what does the pancreas do? It secretes a fluid containing elements essential to the proper digestion of fats. Some of these elements are known as "digestive ferments."

The ferments are mysterious substances which appear to act much as yeast does. All the processes of life are dependent on their presence. There are many, many ferments, but those produced by the pancreas are among the most important. Unless they are formed trouble is bound to occur.

It must be recalled that the most digestive processes occur in the intestines, rather than in the stomach. The function of the intestinal canal is apt to be overlooked. In simple cases where there is no greater disturbance than a lack of pancreatic secretion, there is apt to be pain in the abdomen after eating. In chronic cases there are the familiar symptoms of dyspepsia. The digestion appears to be slow. Discomfort continues for a considerable time after taking food.

The Pancreas
When this failure of intestinal digestion is long continued a number of annoyances result. Sugar and fat are not taken comfortably. It often happens that one who loves sweets, such as candy and pastry, finds he cannot take them or fat foods without discomfort.

In chronic cases there may be so remote a symptom as decrease in the hearing power. That may seem pretty far fetched, but it is within the limits of possibility.

Discuss this matter with your doctor. Not one of the symptoms you have may be due to trouble in the pancreas. But if there is a lack of pancreatic secretions, he may make up for the lack by giving you an appropriate extract of pancreas. In any event he will tell you how to regulate your diet.

FEDERAL LOANS TO VETS SHOW BOOST IN 1930

Increased 30 Percent In Number Over Those Of Preceding Year

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Federal plans to veterans on their bonus certificates increased 35 per cent in number during 1930 over 1929.

Testifying before the senate finance committee on proposals for each redemption of the certificates, Veterans' Administrator Hines said 1930 loans numbered 1,011,905 and amounted to $90,399,606. Loans during 1929 totaled $67,920,836.

1929 Loans Higher in Number

Loans during 1929 were 40 per cent higher in number than during 1928, when 532,658 loans were made aggregating $53,234,418.

The veterans administrator testified yesterday loans so far this year are running at the rate of about $1,000,000 a day.

Hines elaborated today on the cost figures he presented to the committee yesterday.

The amount of money which the treasury would be figured to raise in order to pay cash on the face value of the certificates would be $3,409,000,000. The treasury would need to raise $1,697,600,000 for the Vandenberg bill proposing to loan veterans 50 per cent of the face value of the certificates.

The Fish bill, in the house, proposing a cash payment of 25 per cent of the face value of the certificates without interest, would require $855,000,000.

Would Take a Year To Pay

Hines testified it would require the government a year to complete the payment of cash in the face value of the certificates, but it could begin within 10 days.

The Garner bill, to pay the present value plus the extra 25 per cent credit, would take so long it would destroy its value, he said.

It would require about six months to pay off under the Dill bill proposing to pay merely the current value of the certificates.

Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, suggested the quickest way to give the veterans cash would be to redeem the full face value of the certificates with interest. Hines agreed.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Contrary to edicts of previous years, masculine shoe styles for the coming spring will demand the wearing of "subtle brown" shoes with gray suits. Such was the general opinion at the 17th Annual Convention of the Middle Atlantic Shoe Retailers Association.

Today's Pattern

You'll want to make this model up in several different fabrics and your little daughter will love them. There are just three parts to the frock; the bloomers, of course, are separate. The becoming collar may be finished by picking or binding the edges, the neckline and armholes are bound—and there you are!

Pattern 1863 is ravishing, made of georgette, dimity, voile, swiss, crepe de chin or lawn. You could choose one of the fabrics in white, one in a pastel shade and one colorfully printed, for a delightful variety. A ribbon bow prettily trims the shoulder.

May be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8. Size 4 requires 2 1-2 yards of 39 inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

PLANS ASSAULT ON SPEED MARK

Veteran British Racer To Drill Mechanics In Tire Changing

(By Associated Press) DAYTONA BEACH, FLA., Jan. 28.—Tire drills by mechanics promise to play a vital part in the attempt to make here next week on the world's automobile speed record.

Under existing regulations, the veteran British race driver must make one run with the wind and another against it at an average two-way speed greater than 231 miles an hour to shatter the present mark. Both runs must be completed in a given 30-minute period.

Every second consumed in changing tires, inspecting the car, replenishing the fuel supply and changing water in the radiator at the conclusion of the first run will be precious.

In 1929, when the late Sir Henry Segrave of England, established the present record his second run was completed 28 minutes after the start of the first.

Campbell plans to put his crew of six mechanics through a series of tire drills, holding a stop watch on each, to determine which four can work the fastest in unbolting the tires and installing new ones. Because of the risk that the tires might be cut or worn on the first run, Campbell will install new ones for the second run. He brought 36 tires with him from England, each tested to stand a speed of 300 miles an hour, and plans to put on a new set even after fast preliminary runs.

COURT NEWS

In Divorce Court

Vera F. Eschliman, 827 N. Ellsworth avenue, Salem, through her counsel, Metzger, McCarthy & McGorkhill, has filed an action for divorce in common pleas against her husband, Chester A. Eschliman, formerly residing at 731 Medill street, Massillon, O., but who is now said to be living at Monroe, La.

The couple were married June 24, 1920 at Lisbon. Two children are now in the custody of the plaintiff. Eschliman is charged with gross neglect of duty. The case will be up for final hearing March 21, next.

Michael Pager, who was sued for divorce by his wife, Alta Pager, and last September ordered by Judge W. F. Lones to pay his wife $50 for the expense of the suit and $5 weekly alimony, has been cited for contempt. He is to show cause Feb. 9 why he should not be punished.

Wilbur Whitcomb has been cited to appear before Judge Lones next Monday and show cause why he should not be punished for failure to comply with a court order. He was sued for divorce by his wife, Clara Whitcomb, the decree having been granted Mrs. Whitcomb March 9, 1927. He was ordered at that time to pay his former wife $5 weekly alimony.

Margaret Whorton, aged 17 years, through her next friend Helen Carnahan, has filed a divorce action in court against her husband, Charles Whorton of Newell, W. Va. The petition, filed by Cochran and Crawford sets up that the couple were married at Wellsburg, W. Va., June 27, 1929, and have one child. Whorton is charged with gross neglect of duty.

Frank B. Little has been appointed receiver for the partnership existing between John E. Gamble and L. C. Swager of East Liverpool, with his bond being fixed at $1,000. Gamble, through his counsel, W. S. Foulks, recently filed an action against Swager for an accounting, dissolution of partnership and appointment of a receiver.

The concern with offices in the Little Building, East Liverpool, has been entangled in the brick contracting business, Gamble individually being associated with the business for the last 53 years.

FREEDOM LOSES ITS APPEAL TO PEN MUSICIAN

Nationally Known Composer Returns To San Quentin

(By United Press) SAN QUENTIN STATE PRISON, CALIF., Jan. 28.—A note of sadness crept into San Quentin's grey-clad prison band with the "home-coming" of Demasus Garcia Gallur, former prison band master and nationally known composer.

For 14 years—while serving sentence for murder—Gallur wielded a convict's baton and wrote the stirring marches that sent his fame far beyond guard-studded walls. Then 18 months ago he was paroled.

Back With Comrades

And now he is back again—by his own wish—among the comrades he loved, amidst the surroundings that he said made him useless in a fast-changing society. The colorful and retund music master attempted to pick up his own trails in the studios of Hollywood, but he was not successful.

Broken, ill and penniless, he applied a short time ago to be allowed to return to San Quentin, his "home" and there spend the remaining days of his life. The request was granted by Warden James Holohan on "humanitarian grounds."

But it will be a long time before Gallur can assume his old dictatorship over "his orchestra" here. There will be many months in the hospital, physicians said, to rebuild a body and mind ravaged by the "misery of freedom."

Loathes "Jazz" Music

In the old days Gallur was noted for the depotism with which he ruled the convict orchestra. He was greatly loved by the other inmates despite his leashing of "jazz" and his obvious preference for music of his own composition.

A native of Spain, now 51, he was convicted of killing August Hotchkiss in Fruitvale, Calif., in 1917, during a quarrel.

FLASHES OF LIFE

THEFT CHARGE DEPENDS UPON SIZE OF COOP

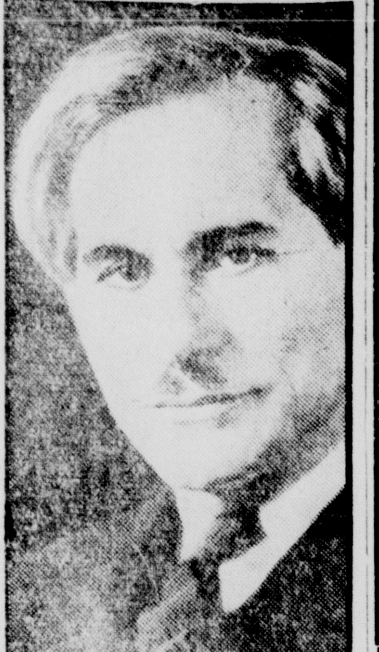

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 28.—There was evidence to show that J. W. Crites, of Hardy county, in the night time did steal "one chicken hen", but the building from which he took the hen was not large enough to sustain a charge of burglary, so Crites will get a new trial.

The state supreme court today held that proof that the chicken was taken from "a box-like structure, approximately four and one half feet long and four feet high does not sustain a charge of burglarizing an out-house."

The appellate court said evidence showed Crites took a hen from a coop of Mrs. Rebecca Borner. The state prosecuted a charge of burglary.

The appellate court said the statute making it a felony to burglarize an outhouse adjoining a dwelling must be interpreted to refer to a structure which is in reality a building and that common understanding of the meaning of the word "building" would at the very least, exclude a structure, "into which an adult human being could not enter erect and in which he would scarcely have sufficient room to turn around."

YOU'RE MISSING SOMETHING

You're missing a lot of pleasure and satisfaction without a Chrysler Straight Eight. You're missing, above everything else, the thrilling results of Dual High gears... Two distinctly different high gears for distinctly different uses—one "high" for sprinting ahead of everything in traffic and for quiet, easy speed up any hill; another "high" for the open road. You're missing the innumerable driving advantages of the exclusive Chrysler Multi-Range 4-speed transmission, with its quick, quiet gear shift. You're missing the pride of ownership inspired by a car that is invincible in getaway; that is incomparably faster in picking up speed; that is infinitely smoother and more flexible at all speeds. After you discover what you're missing, nothing on wheels will satisfy you but a Chrysler Straight Eight.

DINNER-THEATER PARTY

Employees in the business office and editorial department of The News attended a dinner and theater party Tuesday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cope.

The dinner was at Overlook Inn, near Canfield. From there the group went to the Keith-Albee theater in Youngstown.

Mr. Wilson, who has been employed in the advertising department, has been transferred to the Marion Star, at Marion, and will assume his new duties Monday morning.

Mrs. Cope, who has been employed in the business office, has resigned her position, effective in the near future.

FARR CLASS

A coverish supper and election of officers added interest at a meeting of the Farr class of the Christian church, Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Holloway, Ashington avenue.

Mrs. Frank McConner was elected president. Mrs. Harry Vincent is secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Charles Crawford, is assistant secretary-treasurer. Games entertained at the social period.

CARA NOME CLUB

Cara Nome club associates met Tuesday evening with Miss Mary Alice Bartram at her home, Franklin street.

The hours were whiled away at "500". Mrs. Edwin Deagan, Miss Rose McLaughlin and Mrs. Roy Leckrone won prizes. Valentine day appointments were favored in the lunch.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

Bridge club associates of Mrs. W. F. Bolen were entertained at her residence, Home Circle st., Tuesday afternoon. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lester Berger, Mrs. Lee Johnson and Mrs. Ethel Meyers.

MELLON WARNS AGAINST BONUS

Declares Move Would "Greatly Disturb Equilibrium"

terially of the price of all United States bonds, the effect of which would be "equivalent to a capital levy on the holder of all United States government securities."

Destruction of capital values running into hundreds of millions of dollars.

Death of the bond market for any other kind of securities.

Destruction of the market for foreign securities, which, he said, "not only would interfere with the marketing of our surplus products—but would also greatly disturb world trade and world equilibrium."

Sees "Deeper Depression"

Eventually a deeper depression than the one from which the world is suffering today.

"There is no economic merit in the proposal," Secretary Mellon testified. "From the point of view of stimulating business it is a plan for unmitigated inflation, with the disastrous results of which the world is only too familiar."

"On the investment side it means the exhaustion of the security markets and the creation of a serious impediment to business recovery both here and abroad."

"To the unemployed it spells further retardation of the day when normal employment will be available."

"From the point of view of the United States treasury it represents complete disorganization of any orderly program for the refunding and retirement of our war debt and a tremendous increase in interest charges."

Would Hit Taxpayer

"To the taxpayer it means the destruction of all hope of the lightening of the load of taxation for years to come and a probable increase in taxes in the very near future."

"How the veterans and their families, who after all are an inseparable part of the American people and whose prosperity and welfare are inextricably bound up with the prosperity and welfare of all, can hope to find relief and improvement in their condition from the universal and destructive consequences which these measures would entail is beyond comprehension."

Seek Grandmother On Kidnaping Count

(By Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28.—A Kansas City grandmother, charged with kidnaping her 6-year-old grandson is sought in Mexico.

T. A. J. Mastin, assistant prosecuting attorney, said today he has requested the governor of Nevada to arrest Mrs. Helen Robinson and the grandson, Billy Robinson, on a warrant issued here.

Officers said they had been informed Mrs. Robinson and the boy crossed the border at Laredo, Tex., January 19. The boy allegedly was kidnaped January 17, from the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Lorraine Robinson, a divorcee, who said she had spurned offers of money and motor cars from the grandmother for custody of the boy.

Name Instructor

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 28.—Succeeding Miss Mina J. Petzsch, resigned, Miss Aurelie E. Zichy, Fairfield, Iowa, has been appointed assistant professor of education at Heidelberg college.

Miss Zichy comes from Parsons college at Fairfield.

TRAVELERS CLUB

"Fascism has changed Italy spiritually, politically and economically," was the quotation used by the Travelers club for a meeting Tuesday afternoon at Memorial building when a program on Italy was given.

The club's year topic is "Glimpses Into Many Lands." Miss Helen Greiner opened the program with a paper on "Benito Mussolini." "The New Economic Order" was the subject of Mrs. A. R. Silver's paper.

A discussion of "Topics of Interest" was opened by Mrs. G. E. Byers. Magazine review, "World's Work," was contributed by Mrs. L. D. Cesna.

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB

Rachel Cope gave a review of the history of French music at a meeting of the Junior Music club Tuesday evening at the home of Mary Louise Miller, South Lincoln avenue.

Other numbers on the program were: Piano duet, Thelma Leischner and Mary Louise Miller; French horn solo, Marie Callahan, accompanied by Anna Cleland; violin solo, Lela Vincent, accompanied by Anna Cleland. Refreshments were served at the social period.

JESSIE THOMAS CIRCLE

On Tuesday evening members of the Jessie Thomas circle of the English Lutheran church went to Alliance and had a coverish supper at the home of Mrs. Ivan McComb. "India Today" was the subject study and Miss Verda Clay was the program leader. All the members had part on the program.

One member was added. The circle plans to conduct a mission study class. The next meeting will be on Feb. 24.

NAZARENE YOUNG PEOPLE

The Young People's society of the Nazarene church held a social Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Doyle, Franklin street. There were 20 in attendance. Games and radio music afforded pleasure. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barnes of East Palestine, were out of town guests.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Two couples have been granted marriage licenses at Lisbon. They are: Mrs. Mary McGowan, of Salem, and William Gay of North Baltimore; Mrs. Mary G. Thorne of Salem, and George A. Fox of Tiffin. Both couples will be married by Rev. Fr. Vincent Jones of Salem.

DIVISION I TO MEET

Division I of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 2 p. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Astry, East State street.

Doctor's 3 RULES Big Help to Bowels

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It is easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh, laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

Clean up that coated tongue, sweeten that bad breath, and get rid of those bilious headaches. A little Syrup Pepsin will soon free the bowels from all that waste matter that makes the whole system sluggish. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel the way Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin tastes. The way it works will delight you. Big bottles—all drugstores.

ROBBERS ROUTED IN OHIO HOLDUP

Volley Of Shots Fired At Bandits By Restaurant Manager

(By United Press)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 28.—Two quick-shooting robbers were routed from a restaurant here early today by a volley of shots fired by the restaurant manager and a waiter.

The shooting occurred in the Economy lunch room a short time after two robbers had held up the manager of another restaurant nearby.

Tom Petrushoff, manager and Norman Vasil, waiter, fired at the robbers. Two customers who were in the restaurant ducked beneath tables when the gun play started.

Petrushoff, suspicious of the actions of the two men when they walked into the restaurant, spoke sharply and one of the robbers started shooting without warning. The manager drew his own revolver and fired back.

When the gunman's revolver jammed he ran from the restaurant with his companion.

STAR RECEIVES DEATH THREATS

Guard Doubled About Clara Bow's Home As Aftermath Of Daisy De Boe Embezzlement Trial

HOLLYWOOD, CAL., Jan. 28.—Friends close to Clara Bow, motion picture star, today indicated that the present guard will be maintained about the screen star's Beverly Hills home until she leaves for a three weeks' rest.

The guard was doubled last night after Miss Bow had received death threats in letters which commented on the trial of Daisy De Boe, the screen star's former secretary, who was convicted of a charge of embezzling $825 from the actress.

Following the threats it was feared that one of the writers might break into Miss Bow's home where she is convalescing from a serious cold.

Meanwhile William Beirne, attorney for Miss De Boe, was pursuing all evidence in the embezzlement case in preparation for arguments on his motion for a new trial which will be heard Monday, Feb. 2.

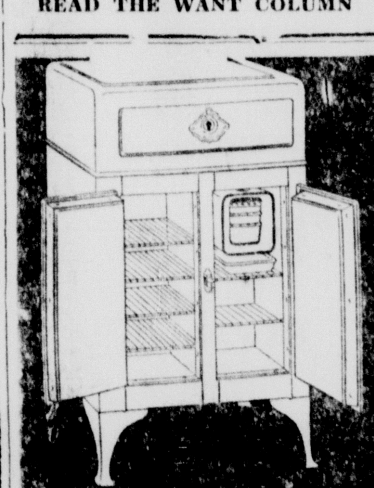

FATHER KILLED IN FAMILY FUED

Son Held, Charged With Staying Of Parent In Fight In Jackson, O.; Acted As "Peacemaker"

JACKSON, O., Jan. 28.—Tragedy ended a family feud that has waged here for several days, and today, Cliff Halderman, 22, was in jail for investigation in connection with the death of his father, Gray Halderman, 50.

The elder Halderman was killed last night. Police say he died from a blow struck with brass knuckles by the son, when the father attempted to stop a fight between another son, James Halderman, and a son-in-law, James Browning. Police had visited the Halderman home a few days ago in an effort to make peace in the family.

Bowed Down by Grief Husband Named in Vice

Shaken by the revelation that her husband, Harry Levy, was a New York City police stoolpigeon who stooped to the framing of innocent girls and women on vice charges, Mrs. Levy (above) seemed bowed down with overwhelming grief, as she appeared before the Kresel-Seabury hearing.

Hits Police Auto And Goes To Jail

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 28.—If Michael Countryman, 38, had known that the parked car toward which his auto was veering was a police cruiser, he might have made a more successful attempt to avoid it.

As it was, the collision put the police car in the repair shop and Countryman in jail—after a chase and a fight—on charges of driving while drunk and resisting arrest.

TRIO WILL DIE AT PEN FRIDAY

Mansfield Men Face Chair For Murder At Filling Station

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 28.—A banquet for three with death the inevitable guest will be the last gesture in the lives of Fred Massa, Kenneth McCartney and Earl Sites, all of Mansfield, who Friday night will be electrocuted at Ohio penitentiary for the murder of a Galien filling station operator.

Death row turned a little grayer at dawn today, as the trio, inseparable in crime and in prison, counted the hours until they will be led, one by one, apart for the first time since they entered the Springfield prison, to the death chamber to be whisked into eternity.

The request that they be allowed to eat together around the rough table for the final repast will be granted officially by the warden sometime before the last day, he said. What the condemned men want for their final meal is problematical. Mrs. Thomas, whose function it has been for almost two decades to please the palates of the condemned before they take the final walk, has received no request as yet.

They read a great deal. Their favorite is "The Three Musketeers." The guards say they fancy themselves three musketeers of crime.

That, perhaps, they say, is why death row is even grayer than usual today.

Spring-like temperatures will probably slide down several degrees, weather forecasters predicted.

Miller To Protest Schooley's Parole

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 28.—County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller announced he would appear before the board of clemency at Columbus tomorrow to protest the parole granted Liston G. Schooley, Jr., who with his father, a former councilman, pleaded guilty to illegal profiting in a city land purchase.

Miller said he would argue that Schooley should be paroled only on the condition that he divulge full details of what became of the $33,000 difference between the amount the city paid for the land and the amount the original owner received.

For TEETHING troubles

FUSSY, fretful . . . of course babies are uncomfortable at teething time! And mothers are worried because of the little upsets which come so suddenly then. But there's one sure way to comfort a restless, teething child. Castoria — made especially for babies and children! It's perfectly harmless, as the formula on the wrapper tells you. It's mild in taste and action. Yet it rights little upsets with a never-failing effectiveness.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given to tiny infants—as often as there is need. In cases of colic and similar disturbances, it is invaluable. But it has every-day uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever older children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset, a more liberal dose of this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

LISBON, Jan. 28.—An action for $10,000 damages has been filed in common pleas court by Nellie M. Weddel, as administratrix of the estate of the late Roy E. Little of Leetonia, against the George Patton Motor Trucking Co., of Akron, O.

It is related in the petition that Little, who was aged 22 years, was driving his car toward Salem the night of Jan. 16, 1930, when it was struck by a truck owned by the defendant. Little's injuries, it is claimed, caused his death. It is also set up in the petition that Little was the sole support of his mother and sister, and that the accident was due to the negligence of the driver of the truck.

WHITE MISTAKEN

Takes Issue on Personnel Cut
in Steubenville Talk

STEUBENVILLE, Jan. 28.—Rupert R. Beetham, Cadiz, retiring state prohibition director, told a Women's Christian Temperance Union audience here Tuesday night that power interests are using prohibition agitation as a lure to divert attention and discussion from power. He named Raskob and Du Pont as offenders along that line.

Beetham assailed a "wet press," reiterated his oft-repeated assertion that McGuffey readers built up a prohibition consciousness for years, and took issue with Governor White's statement that he will reduce the personnel of 70 in the state dry bureau.

"There are only 38 now in the bureau. Governor White is mistaken. Furthermore, dry law enforcement was admittedly better last year than ever before and the department paid for itself."

Consider the Colored Linens
While the white goods sales are in progress it is well to give a thought to the possible variations from sheer white to the colored linens and cottons. There has been a growing vogue for colors instead of white for all sorts of home uses. Colored sheets and pillow cases for the bed-room—colored towel for the bath, colored linens for the table, and that includes formal use as well as breakfast and luncheon cloths.

And their advantages are numerous. Variety is refreshing in anything, especially the simple utilitarian objects of the home. Maize and red and green and lavender give a flip to the ordinary service. But, apart from its interest to the eye, the colored linens have a practical advantage. They are more serviceable and they will likely outlast white goods of the same quality. It must be remembered that colored fabrics usually require more care in laundering than white. And this little bit of extra care which is given by the home or commercial laundry makes colored fabrics last that much longer.

Certainly the colored cloths for various meals commend themselves to the thrifty housekeeper, especially where children are served. Cherry red tablecloths make for an attractive table, or if the natural, lustrous wood permits, the table set with the oblong dories of colored fabrics, instead of being completely swathed in a large cloth, have a delightful homey quality.

Incidentally, in buying linen the average housekeeper is wise to depend on the integrity of a reputable shop, which describes the merchandise plainly. Cotton can be made to resemble linen and is so offered occasionally by fly-by-night merchants. Of course one can prove the fabric by tests, by moistening or burning and observing the results. But this is not very convenient while one shops.

Cotton of good weight and firm weave gives one perfectly good service, even if not quite as good as equal weight and weave of linen. But that is reflected in the difference in price. Certainly, for the sake of fair value, it is better to knowingly buy cotton, which is so marked, and which appears adequate than be tempted by alleged linen which seems on the surface, a bargain.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Tripe, the Light Meat Dish
"But tripe isn't meat," protested the young housekeeper who was urged by the butcher to try it, for a change. It doesn't look like meat, true enough, and it has a different texture. Yet it has the same nourishment and a markedly meaty flavor. Certainly it is a welcome change and deserves wider popularity.

For tripe, being rather flat in taste, has to be combined with other flavors, so that in the end it turns out a very nourishing and pleasant dish. Whatever the ultimate combination, the first preparation is the same.

Scrape the tripe and then wash thoroughly. Place in boiling water, then throw in cold water and soak twenty-four hours. The water can be changed from time to time. Then cook in boiling water for ten minutes. After this the tripe can be prepared in a number of ways.

To broil, cut in small sections, cover with beaten egg then sprinkle thickly with fine breadcrumbs and fry until light brown. Or the tripe can be broiled after being dipped in egg and breadcrumbs. Put on a well greased broiler and leave under a moderate flame for about ten minutes, then season with butter and lemon juice, salt and pepper just before serving.

Below 1930 Period

LISBON, Jan. 28.—Approximately $70,000 was turned over to County Treasurer Fred George Tuesday by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker as deputy automobile registrar for Columbiana county. This pay in warrant was the largest issued to the county treasurer so far this season for automobile license collection.

It is believed that the sale of automobile plates for the January period will be below the collection for the corresponding period last year, but this will not be determined until the monthly settlement record is completed early next week.

Ohio Police Seek
Lone Bank Bandit

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, C. H., Jan. 28.—Police were working on two or three leads today in their search for the robber who escaped with $3,127 from the First National bank yesterday. The loot was first believed to have been $1,800, but investigation revealed the larger sum had been taken.

One of the clues leads to Lima. When the robber jumped over a desk in the bank he dropped a note which had been written on a circular advertisement of the State Shave & Dry Cleaning Co. of Lima. It contained a warning to the bank employees to hand over the money under penalty of death. The robber apparently changed his plans at the last minute, for instead of using the note he issued his commands orally.

13 Killed In Year

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 28.—Hayes McKinley, 54, who died from injuries sustained in an auto accident Jan. 10, brings the total traffic fatalities here since the first of the year to 13.

DEATHS

MRS. PHEBE ANN BORTON
Mrs. Phebe Ann Brosius Borton, 85, life resident of Knox township, Columbiana county, died at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday at the home of her son, Mark Borton, in Knox township. She had been ill for 12 days.

Mrs. Borton, daughter of Charles and Jane Brosius was born Nov. 19, 1846. She attended the public schools in Knox township and the Friends academy at Damascus, Pa. On Feb. 8, 1866, she was married to Capt. Cyrus W. Borton upon his return from the Civil war.

For more than 60 years she was an active member of the Christian church. She was the last surviving charter member of the Mile Branch grange, which she was active in helping to organize in 1874. She was a charter member of the Loyal Workers Farm Women's club.

Surviving are two sons, Mark, at whose home she died, and Benjamin, of Marion, Ind. Two sons, Lewis and Seth, preceded her in death. She is also survived by 13 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at the Cassidy & Turkle funeral home in Alliance at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Interment will be at Quaker Hill cemetery.

Friends may call at the home of her son, Mark, from 2 until 4 and 7 until 9 p. m. Thursday.

MRS. CLARENCE ALWILDA
Funeral service for Mrs. Maude Alwilda, 50, who lived one mile south of East Rochester, and died at 1:30 a. m. Tuesday at her home, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday at the Methodist Episcopal church in East Rochester. A brief service will be held at the home at 1 o'clock. Rev. A. A. McManus will officiate. Interment will be at Moultrie.

Mrs. Alwilda was born in West township, Columbiana county, Sept. 27, 1880. She had resided in the vicinity of East Rochester all her life. She was a member of the Christian church at Augusta.

Surviving are her husband, one son Kenneth, Alliance; one daughter, Mrs. Esther Reed of Minerva; one sister, Mrs. John Foltz of Canton, and two grandchildren.

MRS. MARGARET A. KUHN
LISBON, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Margaret A. Kuhn, 73, died at 6:30 a. m. today at her home on the Lisbon East Liverpool road. She had been ill for six weeks following two paralytic strokes.

She was the wife of J. D. Kuhn and was born near New Alexandria, Pa. With her family she moved to Lisbon from Burgettstown in 1917.

Together with her husband, she is survived by four sons, George, Roy and Knight of Lisbon; Paul of St. Louis, Mo., and two daughters, Beanie at home and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Lenderdale, Pa. A sister, Mrs. Mary H. Gibson of Los Angeles, Calif., also survives.

She was a member of the Lisbon Presbyterian church. Rev. J. M. Citten will officiate at funeral services at 2:30 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery.

Uncle Sam shot at a British rum ship, killed the captain and got $300,000 worth of whisky. Canada starts to know why. Uncle Sam has seized another British ship, the Ruby castle, killing nobody this time, and seizing $120,000 worth of narcotics. No question asked about that. But the British may well ask how we expect them to pay their war debts, if we interfere with their most profitable trade.

that are not taught in college. No trouble, as the late Senator Hearst said, in knowing when you have found gold. "If you think it is gold, it is probably pyrites, if it is gold, you will not think, you will know it." He found the Homestake gold mine, the Anaconda copper mine and other properties from which hundreds of millions of dollars have been taken. But don't come here expecting to get rich. You will not do that.

The former kaiser reached his 72nd birthday yesterday. He has seen both sides of the shield of fate. The writer saw him for the first time at Mentone, long ago. His grandfather, William was alive then, and Sir Morell Mackenzie was operating on his father's throat, to keep him alive, that his wife, daughter of Queen Victoria, might become widow of the Emperor Frederick, not merely widow of a Prussian crown prince. She did become empress and dowager with dignity and a big income.

Next, the young Hohenzollern was seen riding in the jubilee procession of his grandmother's, Victoria. He was dressed in pure white; his well trained charge was magnificent. He outshone the whole parade. Now he is an old man, in exile, sawing wood for exercise. He had much of the will power of his ancestor, the great Frederick, and could have been Germany's greatest commercial emperor, had he kept out of war.

But he lacked Frederick's military genius. You can't inherit that. He mistook the greatness of Bismarck and Von Moke for Hohenzollern greatness. Now his sun has set and Europe that once watched and feared him, makes its plans without considering him. There is the bitterness—to be nothing.

$500 Is Remitted

LISBON, Jan. 28.—In the case of Gorganna Downard against John Downard as executor, wherein a judgment for $2,000 was recently entered in favor of the plaintiff, Judge W. F. Lones has ordered a remitter of $500.

Later television will be useful apart from stock speculation. Some Einstein, Mozes, Maimonides or Spinoza of the future may be seen and heard by the whole world standing on Mount Ararat, sending out a message of vital importance that nobody but himself will understand.

Gandhi is freed by Britain, after nine months in a comfortable jail, and is said to find freedom oppressive. Leading 320,000,000 Asiatics is not an easy task when 60,000,000 of them insist on killing the others, and there is no particular place to which they can be led. Drive Britain out of India and millions would die off or be killed off every year, and Gandhi, intelligent and well meaning, knows it.

Uncle Sam shot at a British rum ship, killed the captain and got $300,000 worth of whisky. Canada starts to know why. Uncle Sam has seized another British ship, the Ruby castle, killing nobody this time, and seizing $120,000 worth of narcotics. No question asked about that. But the British may well ask how we expect them to pay their war debts, if we interfere with their most profitable trade.

FORD
SMOOTHNESS

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all — an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

Broadcast For Red Cross

Two broadcasts in behalf of the Red Cross drought relief fund, one presenting Will Rogers, and the other Gen. J. J. Pershing, are to be made this week-end by WABC and stations.

The Rogers broadcast is planned for Saturday evening and it will include five unnamed sufferers in the southwestern drought area who will give their own impression of conditions. A farmer, a farmer's wife and a boy and a girl are to be among the speakers.

The program will originate through the Columbia station, WACO, Texas, starting at 10 o'clock (EST). It will replace Hank Simmons' showboat.

Gen. Pershing will make an appeal for aid to the relief fund in a talk to be transmitted at 8:15 p. m. Friday. He will be introduced by Miss Mabel R. Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross.

Both programs will go to coast to coast networks.

Try these on your radio tonight: Mme. Frances, Aida on WEAF and stations at 7:30 (EST). Bobby Jones in his third golf broadcast via WEAF and network at 8.

Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson, piano duo, and Ethel Fox, soprano, and Allen Jones, vocal duet in the concert program on WBC and stations at 10:30.

Edna St. Vincent Millay, modern poet, reading verse in the news poem program on WJZ and others at 10:45.

CHICAGO CHURCH SCENE OF HOLDUP

Three Thugs Rob Women Gathered For Meeting;
Effect Escape

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Three systematic bandits went about their work undisturbed by the shrieks of women victims as they corralled a group of women in St. Hedwig's church, robbing their victims after terrorizing them for nearly an hour.

Posing as members, the bandits entered the church and took part in the monthly meeting of Community Club No. 1 of the Polish Catholic Union of America. As a temporary chairman called for nominations for president one bandit drew a revolver and shouted: "Hands up."

Three revolvers were turned on the crowd and the victims were lined up against the wall where they were forced to deposit their cash and valuables on a table. Only money was taken.

The shrieks of several women failed to shake the gunmen's calm as they went about their task. Four women fainted. After 45 minutes of systematic search the gunmen backed to the door and escaped. Police estimated the loot to be more than $100 in cash.

Death Accidental

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 28.—Coroner Frank G. Kreit decided that the death of Mrs. Cleo Wilson, 30, killed in an auto crash Sunday, was accidental.

Caroline Frans, 28, Port Wayne, Ind., was released.

"FEET FIRST"

At The State

Methods may come and methods may go, but Lloydian fun goes on, seemingly, forever.

In other words, no matter what the requirements of film production might be, Harold Lloyd keeps right on, exhilarating the screen-going public with new thrills, each succeeding production.

"Feet First" is a romance filled with convulsing Lloyd gags.

Lloyd, as an ambitious but blundering shoe clerk, falls in love with Barbara Kent, social secretary to his wealthy employer's wife and, mistaking her for a fashionable heiress, he turns himself inside out to reach a social plane which will permit him to make love to her.

His ambitious social climb carries him to the top of an unfinished skyscraper, projects him from a sky-lobby window, makes him a stowaway on an ocean-going liner, and, generally, provides him with enough daredevil comedy situations to keep young and old laughing continuously during the progress of the story.

"LET'S GO NATIVE"

At The Grand

"Let's Go Native," the mad and merry melange of fun, frivolity and music now playing at the Grand theater presents what is believed to be the most imposing aggregation of Hollywood's younger comedy and music celebrities since "Paramount on Parade."

Jeanette MacDonald and James Hall play the romantic leads and sing two songs, "My Mad Moment" and "It Seems To Be Spring." Jack Oakie and Skeets Gallagher provide much of the fun as a wayward taxi driver and a tropical island king respectively. Mr. Oakie sings three songs, "Joe Jazz," "Let's Go Native" and "I've Got A Yen For You."

Kay Francis is the assisting artist in the latter song. David Newell provides whatever menace one can find in such a bland and uproarious story as "Let's Go Native."

Then there are William Austin, Eugene Pallette, Charles Sellon and other clever providers.

THE DAY In Sports

CAGE SEASON NEARS END TOURNAMENTS IN MARCH
QUAKERS HAVE CHANCE

Before the majority of sporting fans realize it another basketball season will have drawn to a close and the end isn't so far away. In less than seven weeks high school cage quintets throughout Ohio will be preparing for participation in the many district tournaments scheduled on March 6-7 and by the first of April basketball will have become history as far as the 1930-31 season is concerned. Signs of spring have already made their appearance in announcements of training camp sites of major league baseball teams, holdouts, golf and baseball schedules and it won't be long until a squad of thinly clad Salem High athletes will be working around the cinder track and on the jumping pits of Reilly athletic stadium in preparation for the coming track season.

The coming tournaments, however, claim the attention of Salem's fandom at present for Quaker backers are convinced that their team will finish the season with a great record. The Red and Black appears destined to win its sixth county championship in a row and has a great opportunity to nose out Alliance in the Big Ten sectional race. To accomplish the former East Palestine and Wellsville are to be defeated in games slated this week and on Feb. 13 while the team's titular aspirations in the district circuit will be realized with victories over Alliance, Ravenna and Warren.

Ravenna plays here Saturday night while on Friday Coach Floyd Stone's proteges invade East Palestine. A return game with Alliance is billed for Feb. 20, while Ravenna will again be played at Ravenna on Feb. 14. The team plays at Warren on Feb. 6.

Looking over the list of schools to compete against Salem at the sectional tourney at Warren on March 6-7, there is every prospect that the locals will be returned victors and will represent this section in the following week's eliminations at Akron Goodyear gym. The schools entered are Youngstown South, East, Rayen and Chaney, Campbell Memorial, Warren, Niles, Girard, Struthers, Lisbon, East Palestine and Brookfield.

Comparison of records to-date indicate Salem, East Palestine, Campbell Memorial and Girard as the four strongest teams entered with Palestine looming as Salem's stiffest opponent. How these teams will rate in tournament competition will to a great extent be decided from the outcome of the clash Friday night.

None of the Youngstown teams looms strong and Memorial High looked like a great team until Palestine set it back two weeks ago. Then Palestine played mediocre ball to lose to Boardman, a Class B team, while Salem is the only entry that has not as yet suffered the humiliation of being victimized in a dope-upsetting affair.

That is by no means any indication that the Quakers will not sustain defeat the remainder of the season. Strong though teams may appear to be, all at one time or other met their "waterloo" and history still lists only a few instances where a favorite went through a sporting season without suffering a defeat at the hands of some team which was deemed to have no chance whatever.

Class A Teams Battle To Close Verdict In Sensational Cage Tilt

Making a last stand in a brilliant effort to inflict on the champions their first defeat of the season, Grove Elctrics played their best basketball of the year Tuesday night only to lose a 30-29 decision to the formidable Golden Eagle quintet which, in winning, marked up its fourth consecutive victory.

The game was one-sided for two periods with the Class A champs holding the edge by a decidedly large margin. The second and third periods were marked by a great comeback of the Grovemen, who, with a new combination attack that almost resulted in victory.

A seven-point advantage amassed by the merchants in the first two periods proved too great a handicap for the Elctrics.

Tied For Second
The defeat pushed the Grove quintet back into a tie for second-place honors with the McArtor Florists who handed the Electric Furnace combine another setback, 31-26. This contest, as in the feature, brought out a thrilling spurt by the furnace-makers in the second and third quarters after they were almost hopelessly outclassed in the first half.

The Golden Eagle, with Lester Older back in action, rolled up an 11-1 margin on the Grovemen in the first period of the nightcap but this lead was cut down to 19-12 when the losers hit a fast stride in the second session. The third quarter was featured by another display of great offensive basketball by the Elctrics the teams entering the fourth quarter with the merchants ahead by only two points, the score standing at 25-23.

Raymond Grove's hurlings held a slight edge again in the fourth quarter but were able to outscore the merchants only six points to five, losing out by a lone point.

Springer In Lineup
Wilbur Springer, 1930 all-city center, appeared with the Elctrics for the first time this season and scored two field goals. Jenkins and Scullion starred for the losers, Litty and Older lead the attack of the winners.

Minus their mainstay, Harry Vogel, the Electric Furnace, tied up a great battle against the Florists in the first battle but a 13-point lead gained by the latter in a stellar offensive exhibition in the second period left the furnace too far in arrears for a victory. The score at the half was 21-8.

Miller and Schmid led the winners in scoring, Duser and Costanzo playing best for the furnace. Summaries—

COLUMBIANA

Plan Florida Trip
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer T. Coyie expect to leave shortly to spend the remainder of the winter in Florida. The trip will be made by motor and they will be accompanied as far as Columbus, Ga., by Mrs. Isaiah Mowen, who will spend a month with relatives there.

Friends here have received word of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watson of Sydney, Australia, Jan. 4, at the Homeopathic hospital, Pittsburgh. Mrs. Watson is remembered here as Miss Mae Callier, who formerly lived east of town, with her mother, Mrs. William Callier, whom she has been visiting at Oakmont, Pa.

Henry Staley, veteran member of the Columbiana county board of education, has been elected to the presidency of that body for 1931. Mr. Staley was also a member of the local board of education for over 20 years.

Church Unit to Meet
The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Grace Reformed church will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hum, South Main street, instead of at the church, as was previously announced.

Mrs. Margaret Rogers is spending several weeks at the H. C. Shillinger home, south of Columbiana, after making an extended visit with relatives in Homeworth, Pa.

Mrs. Mollie Underwood, Youngstown, spent last week with her son, Ernest Underwood, and family, South Main street.

C. H. Laird has moved his family from the Mrs. Mary Zeiger property, South Elm street, to the Elser house, on the same street. Mrs. Hattie Sell, North Lima, was a Columbiana shopper Friday afternoon.

LAYTON'S REIGN AS CHAMPION OF CUEISTS AT END

Allen Hall Winner Over Former Teacher In Tourney Match

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Johnny Layton's three-year-old reign over the three-cushion billiard world has been ended by his own pupil.

Allen Hall, of Chicago, who learned the fine arts of the difficult game from Layton in a St. Louis pool room years ago, last night defeated his teacher, 50 to 43, in a great up and down match that lasted 40 innings.

Layton Out Of Race
The defeat definitely shoved Layton out of the championship tussle. Hall, the "baby" of the tournament, will meet another Chicagoan, Arthur Thurnblad, in a match for the title tomorrow night. Each has captured five out of six matches.

Hall needed everything he learned from the champion, plus a steel nerve. Three times, he appeared beaten and as many times he regained the lead until he ran out with an unfinished run of three in the fortieth inning. In the sixteenth inning, he trailed Layton, 18 to 9. At the close of the twentieth he led 26 to 22, going ahead on three runs of four and one of five. From that point on it was a close fight but Hall out-mastered his master. Thurnblad, who accepted his only

German Eager For Battle

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—His broad face beaming, Max Schmeling moved into New York today, genuinely happy to be back in the land that voted him heavyweight champion of the world.

The youthful German with the features of a young Jack Dempsey sailed into Brooklyn late last night on the liner, Europa, accompanied by his trainer, Max Machon, a dozen pieces of baggage and a cute little dach-hund named Cecile.

In Good Condition
Max appeared to be in splendid physical condition, eager to get to work on preparations for his title battle in June with Young Bill Stribling, Georgia's challenger for the heavyweight crown. He was anxious to explain that, regardless of statements in the papers, he has never made derogatory remarks regarding the New York State Athletic commission which recently stripped him of his title.

He insisted he wants to fight Jack Sharkey, feels sure that eventually he will face the Boston saller in a prize-ring, but for the present:

"Chio Yackobs iss mine manana defeat of the tournament so far from Layton by one point, gained the championship finals yesterday by defeating Otto Reisel of Philadelphia, who with Layton has dominated the three-cushion world for five years by a surprisingly one-sided score of 50 to 32.

ger. I am der fighter. He ma-

Blames Sharkey

Sharkey has no one to blame but himself, Max insisted, for the mud-died state of affairs that enveloped the heavyweights today, a situation wherein Sharkey, loser on foul to Schmeling here last June is recognized in New York as the outstanding challenger while National Boxing association, controlling boxing in 27 states, believes Stribling alone is entitled to a title shot.

"While Stribling knocks out P. Scott and Otto Von Porat since last I am here," Schmeling argued, "what has Sharkey done? Nothing. Sharkey should have fought as Stribling did. I cannot ignore Stribling's record. If I do fight him the N. B. A. suspends me. If I don't fight Sharkey New York suspends me."

Wants to Meet Gob
"Some day I will fight Sharkey again and I will whip him. I know that I would have beat him last June if he did not foul me in the fourth round. I am not entirely recovered from that punch until last October. In the third round I take all he has and they could not even give me smelling salts after the bell. In the fourth I cut. Sharkey sees me coming. I is a changed man. I feel him weaken. He fouls me."

"Ach, what can I do. I know that if I had fouled Sharkey I instead of him fouling me I would not be given another chance 'him'."

THOMAS J. McLAUGHLIN, M. D.
WOONSOCKET, May 21st, 1930.

The American Cigar Company,
#111 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—

Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of "spit" or "saliva." There are many unsanitary processes still employed in industry which are very difficult to eliminate without the aid of industry itself.

Not only the public officer charged with the responsibility of improving conditions of health generally but every one immediately recognizes that the use of "spit" in the manufacture of cigars is not only unsanitary but has latent dangers to health of great magnitude. I feel it incumbent upon myself, therefore, as a public officer charged with protecting the public health to use this means of telling you that in campaigning against such a method of manufacture you are rendering a public service.

I sincerely hope that your example and your campaign will compel the abandonment of such methods of manufacture of cigars by the industry generally and the adoption by all of the manufacturers of sanitary methods in the manufacture of cigars.

You are at liberty to use this expression of my commendation in the furtherance of your laudable campaign for better sanitation.

Yours very truly,
Thos. J. McLaughlin, M. D.
Chairman State Board of Health
State of Rhode Island.

...one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. McLaughlin's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. McLaughlin writes: "Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of 'spit'."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it...Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

COLOR APPEAL TO STIMULATE DRAB INDUSTRY

Engineers Creating New Atmosphere For Man Of Machine Age

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 28.—Realization that the machine age man, for all his greasy overalls and monotonous routine, is stimulated by the pleasures of harmonious light and color, had put engineers here to work creating a new environment for him.

This new environment will take the form of schemes of color and lighting, for interiors of factories, offices and school buildings. Some of the colors that have beautified the homes will now go into factories.

Makes Workers Happy
Color scheme charts are being worked out by Matthew Luckiesh, director of lighting research at Nela park. He believes a majority of workers are happier, more enthusiastic and consequently more efficient when they work in an environment that has the color appeal.

He is working out schemes of cool colors for factory interiors where hard, muscular work is done. Offices, he says, should have warmer colors. Where women work in some delicate feminine material, some such color as orchid should predominate. School rooms with windows on the north should be colored with warmth and on the south kept colorfully cool.

Practical application of these ideas is being made by the Austin company of Cleveland, engineers constructing the new windowless plant of the Simonds Steel Industries at Fitchburg, Mass.

The plant, on one floor, will be 560 feet long and 360 feet wide. Imitate Nature
Imitating the environment of the forest and sky, which made the life of the ancestors of the machine-age man pleasant, the walls and ceiling of the factory and interior will be blue, green and white, while the machines will be colored orange. The orange color will raise the visibility of the machine parts and promote safety.

Besides providing illumination for the windowless plant where the variations of sunlight will not be permitted to interfere with the two shifts of 8-hours each, the lights will produce a portion of the heat. Ventilation, forced from overhead, will be changed frequently, and heated in the winter and cooled in the summer.

Machine noise, which has grated on the machine age man's ears since the beginning of the industrial era, will be to a large degree silenced by sound absorbing material.

To "Point-Up" Appetite Just Stimulate Bowels

Whenever the end of the day finds you out-of-sorts; food doesn't tempt you and won't digest; breath is bad; tongue coated; just chew a candy tablet before bedtime. Tomorrow you'll be a new person! A candy Cascaret clears up a bilious, gassy, headachy condition every time. Puts appetite on edge. Helps digestion. Activates bowels. Cascarets are made from Cascara, which authorities say actually strengthens bowel muscles. So take these delightful tablets as often as you please; or give them freely to children. All drug stores sell Cascarets for a dime, and no dollar preparation could do better work.

Scientific Methods Adopted In Modern Dry Cleaning Concern

Improved Equipment Installed For Salem Laundry, Cleaning Co.

One of the Salem business firms which has made an outstanding success of its work in this community during the last ten years is American Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co., at 278 South Broadway. Under the management of R. C. Gibbs and D. C. Carey, this organization has advanced steadily.

Competitive Field
The laundry business is a highly competitive field and, when some particular firm can show a large gain in volume of business over a period of years, it is logical to assume that this concern offers good service to the public. It must be true that this company, instead of "marking time" and being satisfied with the old, antiquated methods of laundering and cleaning, has constantly sought to improve its service through the adoption of the most modern methods and equipment.

If one will visit the plant of the American Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co., one will find that this is exactly the situation which prevails in this establishment. The "Miracleaner" process, which is exclusive with the American in this city, is considered by many authorities as one of the biggest steps forward in the dry cleaning business. Fresh cleaning fluid is used each day and the process eliminates all disagreeable odors. Fabrics that have been miracleaned are restored to their original richness of color and freshness. Gibbs manages this department.

Laundry Department
The laundry department of this company is efficient. Under the supervision of Carey, this department is handled, the thoroughness with which everything is laundered and the quality of the finish. A consulting chemist from the Sterling Borax company of Chicago inspects this department once a month, checks over the water conditions, soap mixtures, and their effect on the textural strength and colors of various fabrics. This expert offers suggestions from time to time for improving the laundry department. A special service also is provided by the Proctor & Gamble Co. for the American Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. The laundry department has its own soft water plant.

EXHIBITS SHOWN BY BODENDORFER AT FARM AFFAIR

Wear and tear on the furniture of a home when there are youngsters around is likely to make the furniture look shabby. A boy thinks nothing of cutting out his kite over his mother's best mahogany table, and the scratches in the course of time make that table look like it had been used for a school desk. But these things need not make you shove the table into an attic as long as William Bodendorfer is in business. For eight years he has been repairing furniture, refinishing fine woodwork, and upholstering at 121 East State, and he can make that table look as good as it did when it was new.

Then, too, upholstery is no proof against the youngsters. Where all the stains and rips they can put into a piece of furniture come from is a mystery. No amount of talking seems to have any effect on the heedless youngster, for his mind is on other things, and he rightfully regards the furniture as there for use. But mother can have it restored in new colors with just about the effect of new furniture throughout. In fact, sometimes people have the upholstery on their overstuffed pieces changed just because the colors are out of harmony with the rest of the house.

Let Mr. Bodendorfer tell you what he can do for you to overcome the ravages of wear or to give you an agreeable change. His telephone number is 504-M.

Examples of the good work done by Bodendorfer, who is assisted in his store by his popular son, William, Jr., were displayed to Salem residents at last week's farmers' institute held at the Memorial building. Bodendorfer's exhibits were greeted with enthusiasm by visitors.

Food Season Right When Placed Before Patron At Salem Concern

On some of these cold, snappy evenings do you ever get a craving for a big dish of real food, seasoned just right for fine flavor and cooked in a way that makes it melt in your mouth? The next time this happens, it might be suggested that you slip down to the Ohio Restaurant and tell them what you want. They have gained quite a reputation for the quality of their foods and the chances are that, once you try it, you will be a regular customer.

It would be well to choose from their many delicious dishes, including steaks, vegetable dinners, and sea foods. Ever since the Ohio Restaurant was opened six years ago, the owner, William Nyktas has endeavored to maintain the standards of home cooking, and the skill with which his foods are prepared is reflected in the "home-cooked" flavor. Another thing that makes the Ohio restaurant a delightful place to eat is the service. Everything is served in a pleasing, appetizing manner and it is surprising how quickly your order is placed before you. The interior of the place is clean, bright and cheerful, as many Salem folks have found out. In case you don't know where it is, just drop around to 604 East State.

Common Pleas Entries

Two actions for money only filed by Joseph J. McKenna and Bessie E. McKenna against J. G. Mettsch have been settled out of court and at the costs of the defendant.

In the case of Myrtle L. Bruce against the C. C. Thompson Pottery Co., of East Liverpool, there has been a settlement at the costs of the defendant.

Leave to the defendant to file an answer and cross petition at once has been granted in the suit for specific performance of contract filed by Agnes O. Wilson and Sarah E. Barnes against Rena Gerby.

A sale has been confirmed, a deed ordered and a decree of distribution entered in the foreclosure action filed by the Federal Building & Loan Co., of East Liverpool, against Victoria and Julius Pierce. In this issue, the court has entered a deficiency judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $817.78 and costs.

In the suit filed by August Schindler against August Welce and others, for an assignment of dower and an accounting, the court has granted Welce, as executor of the estate to file his answer at once.

Divorce Actions

The divorce petition filed in common pleas court by Oliver C. Turner, through his counsel, James E. Davis, and against his wife, Maude H. Turner, charges the defendant with wilful absence for over a period of three years. They were married Feb. 17, 1918, and are without issue.

Sustaining the grounds of extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty, the uncontroverted divorce action filed by Alice Jackson, a minor, against her husband, Homer Jackson, resulted in a decree being obtained by the plaintiff, but upon the payment of the costs.

There was no contest when the divorce action filed by Katherine Stearns against her husband, William B. Stearns, was called for trial. The plaintiff obtained a decree on the ground of gross neglect of duty upon the payment of the costs, and was restored to her former name that of Katherine Reising.

Radio-Phonograph Given Much Attention Of Public; Salem Tool Company Dealers

The Star-Raider model RP-40-radio-phonograph, now being demonstrated at the Salem Tool company on South Elsworth avenue, is attracting attention among a large number of radio enthusiasts in the city. This Radio-Phonograph was designed to give new pleasure to the art both of receiving and recording, to overcome and conquer adverse conditions, and to do better all things necessary to outstanding performance. Those who have listened to it say that it is remarkably capable and powerful, covering the utmost in distance, with a quality and brilliancy of tone that really is unusual.

The operation of this Star-Raider is extremely simple. Two knobs give perfect control, one being a station selector and the other is for regulating the volume with smooth, positive control, from a whisper to maximum. A metal dial is calibrated directly in kilocycles for ease in finding stations and direct lighting makes it easy to read the numbers at all times. A simple screw adjustment is provided for varying antenna capacities so that the Star-Raider RP-40 can be adjusted to operate with maximum efficiency in connection with practically any aerial which may be available.

The mechanical features of the phonograph consist of a high quality, noiseless electric motor, speed regulator, volume control, and automatic stop. The magnetic pick-up, which has the needle apparatus, has a special impedance carefully matched to the circuit constants of the audio amplifier input and gives a remarkably rich, true tone. All metal parts are finished in satiny bronze. A simple control on the panel is utilized for switching to either radio or phonograph.

The radio part of this Star-Raider comprises the well known nine-tube T-circuit with two type 250 power tubes in a push-pull amplifier stage. The director is of the untuned, high plate voltage, grid bias type.

All apparatus is enclosed in a beautiful solid walnut console cabinet of 7-8" stock, with rich panels and embellishments of matched imported English Pollard oak, burl walnut, and matched American burl walnut. All carvings are hand-wrought from the very finest selected American walnut. Both the appearance and the performance of this set merit the attention of the most critical, and you are invited to visit the Salem Tool company and listen in on an actual demonstration.

Increased Building Expected To Aid Return Of Prosperity

"General prosperity in this country is maintained by a large number of small factors working independently," said M. L. Hans, who is a contractor at 552 East Sixth street and is closely in touch with all things pertaining to the building industry. "The man who has lived in a house inadequate for his need and no longer good enough for his family decides to build. When he begins he starts a chain of activity reaching from the shores of Florida to the forests of Oregon. The workers in these places demand more of the manufacturer of this section, and a cycle of prosperity is set up, dependent in its extent upon the number who are taken with the building idea at the same time."

"Applied locally, this is a good year to build. Material and men are both available at reasonable prices, and one way to bring about greater prosperity is for all who can do so to set these works. "There need be little fear in this country of overbuilding. A few men are still living who saw nothing but a few scattered log cabins for miles around in this country in the early days. Yet look about now. See what a wonderful growth there has been in the span of their lives. Nobody could have predicted it a century ago; nobody dares predict what the growth of this country will be in the century to come beyond saying it will surpass all present ideas.

"In fact, one need not go back more than ten years to find there was a scarcity of living places. Is it at all unreasonable to think that for a few years more we shall grow, as we have grown, that the regular increase of population will continue? Many thousands of new homes must be built each year for these people. No, the United States is not overbuilt. There is room for more homes. There is still more room for better homes."

"Build yourself this year. The company I have the honor to represent are building counselors as well as up to date building supply men. Let us show you why building this year can be no mistake."

ARGUES HIS WAY INTO OHIO PEN

Prisoner Goes Himself, As Sheriff Was Too Busy To Take Him

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 28.—"Well! Here I am," said Thomas Collins, of Lawrence county, as he knocked on the big barred gate that leads into Ohio penitentiary.

The guard looked puzzled. "What do you want," he asked.

"I want in the penitentiary," responded Collins.

"Very nice of you," the guard rejoined, "but you can't get in here."

If It Were Only True
"That's a hot one," said Collins. "I wish it was true. Really I'm supposed to get in."

The guard sensed the fact that he had an argument on his hands. He admitted Collins through the first portal to have it out with him. "See here, my man, you can't get in here unless you have commitment papers," he said when explanations were over. "We'd like very much to have you but it just can't be done."

"Why didn't you say something about commitment papers in the first place?" Collins argued. He reached in his pocket and drew out a sheaf. The guard examined them. The warden examined them. Everybody examined them.

Sheriff Too Busy
"Guess it's all right," they all said.

"Sure, thanks," replied Collins. "I was sent up for arson from Iron-ton. The sheriff was pretty busy so I told him not to bother about me. I'd get down here all right. But I didn't realize it was so tough getting in this place."

Collins followed a guard into the dismal prison city where he must serve at least two and a half years and possibly 20 years of his life.
